THE PRISONS ORDINANCE

(Ordinances 11 of 1971 and 7 of 1975).

REGULATIONS MADE UNDER SECTION 9(4).

In exercise of the powers vested in me under subsection (4) of Section 9 of the Prisons Ordinance 1971, I, the Chief Police Officer and Superintendent of Prisons, with the approval of the Administrator hereby make the following Regulations:—

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Prison (Amendment) Regulations, 1987 and shall be read as one with the Prison Regulations, 1971 as amended by the Prison (Amendment) Regulations, 1981 (hereinafter referred to as “the principal Regulations”).

2. The principal Regulations are hereby amended by deleting the subheading “REMISSION” and Regulations 156 to 161 therefrom and substituting therefor the following new Regulations:—

“Remission of sentence due to good conduct and industry.

156.—(1) Every prisoner serving a sentence of imprisonment other than life imprisonment, may by good conduct and industry earn a remission of his sentence.

(2) The remission of sentence for each prisoner shall be calculated in accordance with the following factors for each scale:

Provided that such remission shall be calculated accumulatively and on the aggregate sentence of each prisoner applying the factors for each scale within the limits of which the corresponding part of sentence falls:

Provided further that such remission of sentence shall not be granted if it shall result in the prisoner being released before one calendar month has been served.

Term of Imprisonment	Remission of Sentence
For each completed month of imprisonment if the sentence is in excess of one month but less than two years six days
For each completed month of imprisonment if the sentence is in excess of two years but less than five years eight days
For each completed month of imprisonment if the sentence is in excess of five years but less than eight years ten days

Term of ImprisonmentRemission of Sentence

For each completed month of imprisonment if the sentence is in excess of eight years but less than twelve years twelve days

For each completed month of imprisonment if the sentence is in excess of twelve years fourteen days.

157.—(1) For the purposes of Regulation 156:—

- (a) any person imprisoned in default of payment of any sum of money shall be treated as a person under sentence of imprisonment;
- (b) when a sentence of imprisonment for an offence is immediately followed by a sentence in default of payment of any sum of money such latter sentence shall commence from the expiration of the sentence of imprisonment for an offence or if a remission has been earned in respect thereof immediately prior to the commencement of the period of remission.

Calculation of remission.

158.—(1) For the purposes of calculating any remission under these Regulations:—

- (a) where one term of imprisonment is to be served after the expiration of another term, the aggregate of the two terms shall be treated as one sentence;
- (b) where a term of imprisonment is partly concurrent with but partly overlaps another, the overlapping term shall wholly supersede such other sentence.

(2) Nothing in this Regulation shall apply to the sentence of a prisoner who has been sentenced to life imprisonment, which shall be subject only to the powers of the Administrator exercisable under subsection (1) of Section 10 of the Prisons Ordinance and subsection (1) of Section 6 of the Sovereign Base Areas of Akrotiri and Dhekelia Order in Council, 1960.”

3. The provisions of these Regulations shall not apply to prisoners sentenced to imprisonment before the coming into force of these Regulations.

Made with the approval of the Administrator
this 16th day of June, 1987.

A. BINNEY,
Chief Police Officer and Superintendent of Prisons
Sovereign Base Areas.
