EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

1. This explanatory note relates to the Motor Vehicles and Road Traffic Regulations 2013 (Identification Marks and Registration Plates) (Commencement) (Amendment) Order 2013 (the “Order”). It has been prepared by the Office of the Attorney-General and Legal Adviser in order to assist the reader and should be read in conjunction with the Order.

2. The Order substitutes a new article 6 of the Motor Vehicles and Road Traffic Regulations 2013 (Identification Marks and Registration Plates) (Commencement) Order 2013 (the “principal Order”). The principal Order brings into force provisions relating to the new style of vehicle registration plates (i.e. specifications as to identification marks and the affixing of number plates on motor vehicles) and specifies the date from which the new specifications apply.

3. New article 6 of the principal Order states that any vehicles with identification marks or registration plates that were issued or affixed to the vehicle before 20 August 2013 in accordance with corresponding Republican legislation do not need to be changed to conform with the new requirements for identification marks or registration plates.

4. This Order creates an exception to this general provision in the new article 6 of the principal Order in relation to certain types of vehicles, namely taxis, certain categories of two and three wheeled vehicles and lorries used for road haulage transport where a road operator’s licence is required. The Order requires such vehicles to confirm with the new style vehicle registration plates by 3 December 2013.
